Cryolipolysis (Fat Freezing)

What Is It?

Cryolipolysis, Fat Freezing or Cool Sculpting is the next generation fat reduction treatment. It has helped thousands of people get rid of unwanted or stubborn fat and is definitely the most innovative and fastest way to get the results you want. It involves no needles, no surgery, no downtime and can help contour your body to your desired results.

How Does It Work?

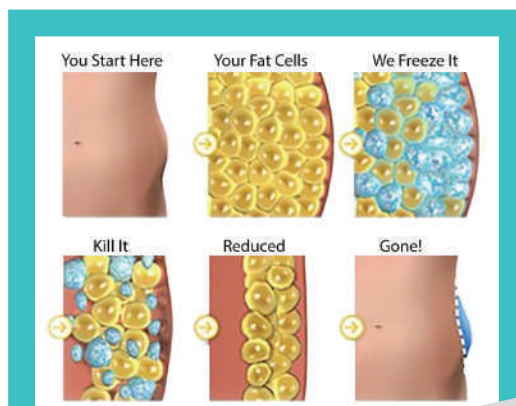

This procedure delivers precisely controlled cooling to target the fat cells underneath the skin. Treated fat cells are crystallised, destroyed, and then over time your body naturally processes the fat and eliminates these dead cells. The result? A more sculpted you!

Cryolipolysis

After treatment the treated area may be slightly reddened, numb and cold. There is occasionally mild tingling, warmth and aching that can persist for several hours after treatment. Occasionally a rash or bruise may develop over the treated area which may last several days. Very rarely, the skin may get slightly burnt. The procedure is extremely safe and side-effects are rare. All this can last a few hours to a few days with minimal to zero pain. Best advised to avoid any sun beds, sauna, steam rooms, hot shower or baths following 48 hours post treatment. You can resume your normal activities straight away following treatment. Most people will achieve a noticeable and satisfying improvement over time, however some people do respond better than others.

Although the fat loss achieved is permanent, of course, fatty tissue and cellulite may reappear over time and we recommend a healthy lifestyle, diet and exercise to maintain these effects.

If any of the symptoms persist, please contact the clinic.
